

Buenos Aires, September 23rd, 2005

His Excellency
Secretary General
of the United Nations
Kofi Annan

Dear Sir,

I take the liberty to inform you about my defense in the impeachment that the Senate of Argentina is trying against me.

My final oral argument of yesterday also shows my view on it. This imply a prospective assessment on the judiciary of my country which might be of some interest to the United Nations.

Obviously, I leave to your wise authority to take any course of action in this case, which, in my view, jeopardizes the human rights of the judge at large.

With my highest respect

Yours ever,

Antonio Boggiano
Judge of the Supreme Court of Argentina
